Calling to Mobile Phones in the U.S.A.

Calling a cellular phone in the U.S.A. is simple – it's no different from calling a land line. Cellular phones have area codes based on their primary calling area. As with calling a land line internationally, you would need to dial the international access code, country code, area code, and subscriber number to reach an American cell phone from abroad. e.g. For a call from Mexico City to a cell phone in San Diego, dial 00-1-619-xxx-xxxx. If calling the same cell phone from within the U.S., simply dial 1-619-xxx-xxxx.
